PMA's Cape Schanck House was the Overall Winner in this year's IDEA 07 Design Excellence Awards, as well as winning the Best Residential Interior category.

"The Cape Schanck House ... radically questions the conventions of the coastal weekender.

The jury considered the question of whether this project's strength lay in its interior design or its architectural form, its picturesque siting or its theatrical staging of that site, its environmental credentials or its material richness, its computational modelling or the quality of its fabrication, but decided that all these elements were inextricably linked and interdependent. The Cape Schanck House represents a complex interweaving of many elements that nevertheless coalesce in a single coherent whole."
